Few of us have time to assess the trends and efficiency of organized labor from year to year in any kind of systematic manner. Consequently, opportunities to capture and utilize facts or trends might be missed. Most importantly, we are witnessing the metamorphosis of our national labor relations law. The final chapter of this discussion has yet to be written.

Join us for a presentation on labor union trends in the United States and the California health care industry.

Course Objectives

- Learn about formal organized labor activities in the United States and California health care industry.
- Identify top labor union organizations in health care.
- Hear about recent NLRB case law changes that drastically impact employers.

Who Should Attend?

This program is intended for:

- Chief Human Resource Officers/Executives
- Chief Nursing Officers/Chief Operating Officers
- Talent Management/Organization Development Specialists
- HR Generalists/Specialists

This web seminar allows you to attend and participate without leaving the office. The seminar is presented live, via the Internet.

Audio for the seminar is accessed through a telephone line, which will allow you to actively participate during the program. If multiple people will be listening to the program, you can listen via speakerphone. The slide presentation is accessed on your computer via the web.

This program is open to members of the Hospital Association of Southern California.

Multiple staff can participate from one location for one tuition fee. Please note that if an additional attendee connects from a different line, they will be invoiced separately.

Confirmation and Instructions

Upon receipt of payment, you will receive a confirmation e-mail and complete instructions on how to access the program.

Faculty

Susan Connelly began her career with PTI Labor Research in 1998. She has authored and produced campaign literature as well as campaign speeches and has prepared comprehensive labor research statistical profiles about specific unions and their corresponding organization activity. She has also participated in the production of several custom, broadcast quality digital videos, as well as generic videos still sold commercially throughout the United States. For eight years, Connelly worked as a labor relations consultant and persuader during union organizing campaigns throughout the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom.

Douglas R. Hart is a partner in the Labor and Employment Practice Group in Sidley Austin LLP, Los Angeles office. A leading class action litigator in the country, he handles nationwide class action litigation and is national class action counsel for several Fortune 100 companies. Hart has been highly successful in defending some of the largest class action lawsuits filed against employers both in California and across the nation, with several of the cases being dismissed outright. He handles all types of employment-related class action lawsuits on behalf of employers, including pay practice and wage hour cases, disparate impact and intentional discrimination cases, and pension plan cases.

Josephine (Jo) Zamora, has more than 20 years of experience in labor and employee relations, leadership development and coaching, strategy development, deployment and training. Her professional background includes executive-suite experience, managing organizational improvement initiatives and providing solutions for management in various industries.

As a consultant and IRI Consultants partner, Jo has helped many organizations prevail in union organizing campaigns. Her leadership and labor relations experience has helped organizations identify vulnerability to union organizing, pinpoint employee engagement challenges and opportunities as well as implement strategies to remain union free.
