Does your hospital need training on hospital surge capacity management for natural disasters, biological, radiological, nuclear and explosive (BRNE) incidents? Join us for Hospital Disaster Management Training, an in-depth two-day session that is a product of the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services Emergency Medical Services Agency's Disaster Resource Center Program. The Hospital Association of Southern California provides educational and administrative support.

This course has a broad approach, with both a clinical and non-clinical target audience that includes but is not limited to hospital administration, physicians, nurses, emergency care technicians, safety, security, facilities, legal/risk management, human resources, educators, clinic and first receiver staff.

Participants will learn how to move beyond awareness and focus on operational strategies. At the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- ¥ Understand an all-hazards approach in disaster management, to successfully coordinate hospital response during a mass casualty incident
- ¥ Perform a role in the hospital command center.
- ¥ Perform a role in either the emergency department or triage
- ¥ Describe the health care facility's role in a disaster

#1,6,2,9 We require 20 registered students to hold the training. For the rare occasion that we do not have 20 students registered, the class will be cancelled one week prior to the training. You will have the option of signing up for another class or receiving a refund. Please take this into consideration when booking transportation and/or hotel accommodations. Also, we highly recommend completing Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Incident Command System (ICS) online courses 100, 200 and 700 prior to the training. However, these courses are not required. Learn more at <https://training.fema.gov/trnms/>.
